Pthe download link.Q: I like to read Julia docs, but when I try to install the package, I get an error This is the code: using Distributions plot(c(4,5,6,7,8,9), rep(10, times = 2), ylab = "Eggs") Why do I get this error message: ERROR: LoadError: Dependency required by package "InteractiveGraphics" is not available. I can install other packages, but not this one. Any ideas how to get around this problem? A: You can install the package with: julia> using Pkg julia> Pkg.add("InteractiveGraphics") This package requires Julia v0.3+ for a loading and/or installation error. To get Julia v0.3.1, see Q: Returning a generalised t-test from a function? The t-test can be carried out using a function. I would like to do something similar to this but have it work on a generalised t-test. I am aware of the existance of the lmtest package that does this. My concern is this: the lmtest package is designed for package testing only and therefore has additional uses beyond function testing. The package also requires co-integration in order to do its test, something that is not required for this generalised t-test. An example of how I think the t-test would work (ideal): import stats import numpy import scipy.stats from scipy.stats import cdf import scipy.special import scipy.optimize def ttest(df, target=0.1): N = df.size dif = df[target]-df[0.5] ret = cdf(dif,N-1) - 0.5 return ret My attempt: def gttest(df, target=0.1): try: df['sig'] = df.var - df

She rubs her huge boobs on the wall, just trying to rub his cock so he can feel it. It doesn't work. Anya gets annoyed and starts getting angry. She slams him against the wall and starts smacking him like a puppy. She also starts choking him, and makes him drop his pants and underwear. Now he's on his knees, with her riding him, screaming with pleasure. He's cumming all over her ass. Anya 82138339de
