TvTime Crack + Free

TvTime allows you to keep track of your favorite TV shows and easily verify when a new episode comes out. With the application, you can create a list of the episodes for your favorite series, then insert a specific Google search URL and click on the name of the show to verify when a new episode is out. All you need to do is select the TV series from the list of the TV shows on the left, enter the episode number and click on the button that opens a browser page. This way, the program generates a personalized search URL that can be entered into the browser. Once done, you will be instantly redirected to the webpage of the search engine and to the desired episode.
