The widely watched Stoxx Europe 600 Index eked out gains on Tuesday after plunging 3% in the previous session, its biggest daily decline since February 2008, as China's new leadership took power and triggered worries about the Asian economy. MSCI's broadest index of Asia-Pacific shares outside Japan declined 0.8%. In Europe, the DAX closed 1.8% higher, with a gain for Germany's DAX making it the top performer among the 20 major regional markets tracked by Bloomberg. Rising shares of Germany's Bayer AG and European aerospace and defense company Airbus helped to offset losses for Volkswagen AG and the region's largest exporter, Italy's Fiat SpA. Volkswagen plunged 8.4% after the auto maker was forced to recall nearly 600,000 diesel cars in Europe following the admission by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency that they contain high levels of toxic emissions. Fiat, meanwhile, closed up 0.6%. U.S. stock

Table of Contents Review Intermission Purchase Scorecard Make your own beat Discussion Glossary of terms I am not a fan of the music business. I don't like the way it goes about doing things and, worst of all, I can't stand "the business" (i.e. the industry). So I'm sure you can understand why I was a bit reluctant to pick up this game. What could possibly be wrong with something that goes by such a seductive name
